Foreword vii

Professor Toshiaki Osawa viii

Professor Nathan Sharon xii

From soybeans to lectins: a trail of research revisted
I. E. Liener (St. Paul, MN, U.S.A.) 1

Isolation and chacterization of a seed lectin from elderberry (Sambucus nigra L.) and its relationship to the bark lectins
W. J. Peumans, J. T. C. Kellens, A. K. Allen, and E. J. M. Van Damme (Leuven, Belgium) 7

The effects of N-glycosylation on the lectin activity of recombinant ricin B chain
P. T. Richardson, K. Hussain, H. R. Woodland, J. M. Lord, and L. M. Roberts (Coventry, Gt. Britain) 19

The (1→3)-linked α-L-fucosyl group of the N-glycans of the Wistaria floribunda lectins is recognized by a rabbit antiserum
D. Ramirez-Soto and R. D. Porets (Piscataway, NJ, U.S.A.) 27

Binding specificity of D-mannose 6-phosphate receptor of rabbit alveolar macrophages
H. Tomoda, Y. Ohsumi, Y. Ichikawa, O. P. Srivastava, Y. Kishimoto, and Y. C. Lee (Baltimore, MD, U.S.A.) 37

Lactose-binding lectin expression in human colorectal carcinomas. Relation to tumor progression
R. Lotan, Y. Matsushita, D. Ohannesian, D. Carralero, D. M. Ota, K. R. Cleary, G. L. Nicolson, and T. Irimura (Houston, TX, U.S.A.) 47

Further characterization of the saccharide specificity of peanut (Arachis hypogaea) agglutinin
M. J. Swamy, D. Gupta, S. K. Mahanta, and A. Surolia (Bangalore, India) 59

Interactions of concanavalin A with glycoproteins. A quantitative precipitation study of concanavalin A with the soybean agglutinin
M. I. Khan, D. K. Mandal, and C. F. Brewer (Bronx, NY, U.S.A.) 69

N-Acetyl-β-D-glucosaminyl-binding properties of the envelope glycoprotein of human immunodeficiency virus type 1
L. Gattegno, H. Sadeghi, L. Saffar, D. Bladier (Bobigny, France), B. Clerget-Raslain, J.-C. Gluckman (Paris, France), and E. Bahraoui (Marseille, France) 79

Characterization and isolation of an intracellular D-mannose-specific receptor from human promyelocytic HL60 cells
V. Pimpaneau, P. Midoux, M. Monsigny, and A. C. Roche (Orléans, France) 95

Interactions of five D-mannose-specific lectins with a series of synthetic branched trisaccharides
H. Kaku, I. J. Goldstein (Ann Arbor, MI, U.S.A.), and S. Oscarson (Stockholm, Sweden) 109

Malignant transformation in hepatocytes is associated with the general increase of glycoprotein ligands specifically binding to the endogenous lectin CSL
J.-P. Zanetta, C. Staedel, S. Kuchler, M. Zaepfel, A. Meyer, and G. Vincendon (Strasbourg, France) 117

Coding and classification of D-galactose, N-acetyl-D-galactosamine, and β-D-Gal*p*-[1→3(4)]-β-D-Glc*p*NAc, specificities of applied lectins
A. M. Wu (Kwei-San, Taiwan) and S. Sugii (Sagamihara, Japan) 127

Purification and characterization of the D-mannose receptor from J774 mouse macrophage cells
J. S. Blum, P. D. Stahl, R. Diaz, and M. L. Fiani (St. Louis, MO, U.S.A.) 145

Decreased biosynthesis of Forssman glycolipid after retinoic acid-induced differentiation of mouse F9 teratocarcinoma cells. Lectin-affinity chromatography of the glycolipid-derived oligosaccharide
G. F. Clark, C. M. Gorbea (Blacksburg, VA, U.S.A.), R. D. Cummings, S. Mattox, and D. F. Smith (Athens, GA, U.S.A.) 155

N-Acetyllactosaminooligosaccharides that contain the β-D-Glc*p*NAc-(1→6)-D-Gal or β-D-Glc*p*NAc-(1→6)-D-GalNAc sequences reveal reduction-sensitive affinities for wheat germ agglutinin
O. Renkonen, L. Penttilä, R. Niemelä, A. Vainio, A. Leppänen, J. Helin, A. Seppo, A. Makkonen, and H. Maaheimo (Helsinki, Finland) 169

Intracellular pathway of a mucin-type membrane glycoprotein in mouse mammary tumor cells
S. C. Watkins, H. S. Slayter, and J. F. Codington (Boston, MA, U.S.A.) 185

Participation of D-galactose-specific receptors of liver macrophages in recognition of fibronectin-opsonized particles
V. Kolb-Bachofen and F. Abel (Düsseldorf, Germany) 201

The glycosylation of glycoprotein lectins. Intra- and inter-genus variation in N-linked oligosaccharide expression
D. A. Ashford, R. A. Dwek, T. W. Rademacher (Oxford, Gt. Britain), H. Lis, and N. Sharon (Rehovot, Israel) 215

Application of lectin histochemistry and carbohydrate analysis to the characterization of lysosomal storage diseases
J. Alroy, R. De Gasperi, and C. D. Warren (Boston, MA, U.S.A.) 229

A T-antigen-binding lectin from Channa leucopunctatus (Murrel) plasma
S. R. Manihar, R. H. Das, and H. R. Das (Delhi, India) 251

Reversible binding of sialidase-treated rat lymphocytes by homologous peritoneal macrophages
C. Fischer, S. Kelm, B. Ruch, and R. Schauer (Kiel, Germany) 263

Purification and characterization of Canavalia gladiata agglutinin
K. Kojima, H. Ogawa, N. Seno, and I. Matsumoto (Tokyo, Japan) 275

Changes in the expression of lectins in human T lymphocyte membrane upon mitogenic stimulation
C. Grillon, M. Monsigny, and C. Kieda (Orléans, France) 283

Studies of the binding specificity of the soluble 14000-dalton bovine heart muscle lectin using immobilised glycolipids and neoglycolipids
J. C. Solomon, M. S. Stoll, P. Penfold, W. M. Abbott, R. A. Childs (Harrow, U.K.), P. Hanfland (Bonn, Germany), and T. Feizi (Harrow, U.K.) 293

Synthesis and carbohydrate-binding activity of poly(ethyleneglycol)–Ricinus communis agglutinin I conjugates
H. J. Allen, A. Sharma, and A. K. Matta (Buffalo, NY, U.S.A.) 309

Notes
Binding of hydroxylysine-linked saccharides by galaptin, a galactoside-binding animal tissue lectin
H. Ahmed, H. J. Allen, and R. A. DiCioccio (Buffalo, NY, U.S.A.) 321

Sandwich enzyme-linked immunosorbent assay of D-mannans of Candida albicans NIH A-207 and NIH B-792 strains using concanavalin A and polyclonal rabbit anti–C. albicans antisera
M. Tojo, N. Shibata, T. Osanai, T. Mikami, M. Suzuki, and S. Suzuki (Sendai, Japan) . . 325

The D-galactose-inhibitable lectin of Entamoeba histolytica
B. J. Mann (Charlottesville, VA, U.S.A.), D. Mirelman (Rehovot, Israel), and W. A. Petri, Jr. (Charlottesville, VA, U.S.A.) 331

Fluorescein-labeled O-glycosyloxyalkenyl–aminoalkenyl–acrylamide copolymers in lectin-saccharide binding studies
M. Tichá and J. Kocourek (Prague, Czechoslovakia) 339

Purification in large amounts of β-D-galactoside-binding lectins from a murine thymic epithelial cell line
E. Bacgar-Lustig, Y. Gan, and Y. Reisner (Rehovot, Israel) 345

Differences in the amount of N-acetyl- and N-glycoloylneuraminic acid, as well as O-acylated sialic acids, of fetal and adult bovine tissues
R. Schauer, S. Stoll, and G. Reuter (Kiel, Germany) 353
